Exhibition overview

Autism-Europe is an international association whose main objective is to advance the rights of persons with autism and their families and to help them improve their quality of life.

Autism-Europe's international congresses are dedicated to sharing advances in practical and scientific knowledge about autism to as wide an audience as possible, including professionals, parents and self-advocates.

The 11th Autism-Europe International Congress will focus on the most recent developments across the field of autism, including causes, genetics, diagnosis, early intervention, treatments, education, support, employment, rights and policies, among many more. The Congress will also cover the evolution of knowledge, rights and services for autism, as well as providing insight into future developments in knowledge and technologies for autism that may soon become a part of everyday life.
