Exhibition overview

The main goal of EVC is to provide theoretical and practical education via a high level post-graduate course. There will be lectures; videos on the different vascular procedures; master classes and workshops. There will also be case discussions in small groups, vascular master classes on human cadaver models, ultrasound workshops and catheter workshops. Wound care will also be covered.

In 2013, the 17th European Vascular Course saw over 1700 delegates, coming from 58 different countries. In 2014, the conference will be held in Maastricht, the Netherlands in May.
