Exhibition overview

The main goal of EVC is to provide theoretical and practical education via a high level post-graduate course.

The Course offers participants the most recent knowledge on arterial, venous and vascular access subjects via invited lectures, instructive edited videos, master classes and workshops. Furthermore, challenging case discussions are promoted in small groups where views and experience can be exchanged with the experts in the field.

1800 delegates from 52 countries (83% European) attended the 2014 Course and a similar number of delegates is expected to attend in 2015.
