Exhibition overview

The European Society for Medical Oncology (ESMO) is Europe's leading medical oncology society, providing a professional network for its members and working with national societies across Europe and around the world. The ESMO World Congress is the premier global event in the field, encompassing malignancies affecting every component of the gastrointestinal tract and aspects related to the care of patients with gastrointestinal cancer, including screening, diagnosis and the latest management options for common and uncommon tumors. It has been endorsed by leading professional societies and organizations. With the focus on personalized therapy, multidisciplinary management and unraveling molecular mechanisms, the congress will educate and update the broad range of experts who participate in the treatment of gastrointestinal cancers, providing a clear overview for treatment. Over 60 expert specialists will lead the sessions and meet with participants in small targeted groups, making the scientific agenda the most comprehensive and most effective in addressing the educational needs of physicians. Thousands of participants attend each year, and their comments indicate that the update they receive is of immediate relevance to their practices. In 2012, a total of 3,375 people registered for this congress.
