Exhibition overview

Cervical Pathology and Colposcopy (IFCPC), the British Society for Colposcopy and Cervical Pathology (BSCCP), will host 15th IFCPC World Congress in London, in May 2014.

The BSCCP has over 2500 members and is one of the 32 national societies represented by the IFCPC. Both the BSCCP and IFCPC have worked with other societies and allied professional organisations for the benefit of women and to improve standards and quality in colposcopy across the world.

The meeting will include a rich scientific and educational programme on cervical cancer prevention, new advances in our understanding of the role of human papillomaviruses (HPV) and management of lower genital tract disease as well as teaching and training the next generation.

There will also be pre-congress courses on colposcopy and vulval disease and post-congress seminars in centres of excellence across London which will allow delegates to gain firsthand experience of the translational research that is underway.
