Exhibition overview

Over 3,500 delegates are expected to attend the AD/PD Congress in 2017, all at the forefront of unravelling the mechanisms and improving the treatment of Alzheimer's, Parkinson's and other related neurodegenerative diseases. AD/PD™ conferences uniquely combine distinct neurodegenerative diseases in one setting and examine their integration. This provides conference participants with a diverse, multi-disciplinary scientific programme covering the most recent research, developments and treatments.

Further details about the scientific programme are available.
