Exhibition overview

The Annual Conference of the BPNA promises a full programme of stimulating, challenging and enlightening keynote lectures, platform presentations, and personal practice sessions.

The main scientific programme is preceded by a day of pre-conference symposia and meetings.

Exhibition details

The Ronnie MacKeith lecture will be delivered by the internationally renowned Professor James Barkovich from the University of California, San Francisco and is entitled: New concepts in developmental abnormalities of the brain.

Two eminent local luminaries, Professor Sir John Burn and Professor Patrick Chinnery, have been invited to take part in what promises to be a lively open debate.

The provisional scientific programme is available at:
