Exhibition overview

The BSR Annual Conference brings together over 2,000 delegates from over 50 countries, with interactive sessions, workshops, lectures, poster tours symposia and more than 50 exhibitors showcasing the latest developments and advances in rheumatology.

With the integration of both The British Health Professionals in Rheumatology (BHPR) and most recently the British Society for Paediatric and Adolescent Rheumatology (BSPAR) into The British Society for Rheumatology (BSR) this union brings together the clinical voice for adult and children's rheumatology in the UK.

The whole organisation exists to unite and provide support to every rheumatology professional – for those just beginning their medical career to the most senior consultant, to those in research and academia and for every health professional in the multi-disciplinary team. With over 130 speakers and streams dedicated to primary care, basic science, trainees and paediatric rheumatology and with sessions on Sjögren's RA, Ax Spa, osteoarthritis to name a few
