Exhibition overview

This will be the 11th Congress of the European Crohn's and Colitis Organisation. The congress has grown over the years to become the major educational event, both clinically and scientifically, in the field of Inflammatory Bowel Diseases (IBD) in Europe and has achieved immense popularity across the world.

ECCO 2016 in Amsterdam will again offer a broad and exciting scientific programme, covering all aspects of adult and pediatric care, of medical and surgical advances, aspects related to costs and quality of care, and the increasing knowledge about the role of the environment in IBD.

The aims of the Congress are:

To advance the understanding of the causes of Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis

To share and discuss top-line results of therapeutic agents and algorithms

To stimulate and promote the implementation of guidelines

To ultimately further improve patient care by promoting research, integrating basic science and clinical practice, fostering international collaboration.

Exhibition details

The scientific programme is now available on the ECCO website.
