Exhibition overview

The International Academy of Human Reproduction (IAHR) will host the next World Congress on Human Reproduction 2015 in Berlin.

The Berlin Congress will focus on state of the art and innovative topics, forward looking to the future of human reproduction. The programme will also address the new challenges posed by globalization and new technologies.

These, combined with more complex ethical, clinical, social norms, religious beliefs and costs are areas which clinicians and scientists must tackle on a daily basis.
